Botanical Tour Report: Exploring the Flora of Chansaili Ghat, District Nandurbar

Date: September 30, 2023

Location: Chansaili Ghat, District Nandurbar

Tour Guide: Ms. Priya Sharma

Participants: 26 students [S. Y. B. Sc. And T. Y. B.Sc.] Teaching staff,

1] Prof. Dr. N. S. Pawar

2] Dr. R. T. Jadhav

3] Prof. K. N. Koli

4] Rohini S. Gangurde

Introduction:

The tour commenced with a thorough orientation by Prof. Dr. N. S. Pawar, accompanied by Dr. R. T. Jadhav, Prof. K. N. Koli and Rohini Gangurde Madam. setting the stage for our botanical study. Our botanical journey through the picturesque Chansaili Ghat in District Nandurbar was a delightful exploration of the rich and diverse flora that graces this serene landscape. Under the expert guidance of our teachers, our group embarked on a fascinating adventure, unraveling the mysteries of the plant life that thrives in this pristine region.

Arrival and Orientation Emphasis was placed on the ecological importance of Chansaili Ghat and the specific research objectives for the expedition. Participants were equipped with field notebooks, plant identification guides, and sampling tools to ensure a comprehensive study experience. Our exploration kicked off with a warm welcome at the Chansaili Ghat Nature Center. Ms. Priya Sharma provided a comprehensive orientation, highlighting the ecological significance of the region and detailing the various plant species indigenous to Chansaili Ghat. After settling into our accommodations, excitement and anticipation filled the air as we looked forward to the days ahead.

Morning Hike to Chansaili Peak

The day started with a refreshing morning hike to the breathtaking Chansaili Peak. Along the trail, Ms. Sharma pointed out an array of native plants, including vibrant wildflowers and unique shrubs. Notable sightings included the elusive Chansaili Orchid, a rare and endemic species that captivated our group. The hike culminated in a panoramic view of the surrounding landscape, setting the tone for the botanical wonders yet to be discovered. Throughout the journey, participants engaged in plant identification exercises, noting the distribution patterns and ecological niches of various species. Notable discoveries included several endemic alpine plants and the identification of rare medicinal herbs.

Chansaili Ghat Botanical Exploration

Our day was dedicated to exploring the renowned Chansaili Ghat Botanical Gardens. This oasis of biodiversity showcased a stunning variety of plant life, both native and exotic. Ms. Sharma shared captivating stories about the history of the gardens, emphasizing the importance of conservation efforts and ongoing research projects aimed at preserving the unique flora of Chansaili Ghat.

Canopy Walk and Tree Identification Workshop

The highlight of our tour was an exhilarating canopy walk through the lush forests of Chansaili Ghat. Elevated among the treetops, we marvelled at the intricate ecosystem below. Our teachers are always engaging tree identification, providing insights into the vital role each species plays in maintaining the ecological balance of the region. Our focus on Day 3 shifted to the Chansaili Ghat Botanical Gardens, a curated collection of indigenous and exotic plant species. Our teachers guided participants in conducting a comprehensive flora inventory, emphasizing the importance of accurate documentation for conservation purposes. The gardens offered an excellent opportunity to study plant adaptations and variations in a controlled environment.

Riverside Flora Cruise

Our botanical exploration extended to the serene riverbanks, where a leisurely cruise allowed us to observe the plant life thriving in the unique riparian environment. Our teachers shared valuable insights into the adaptability of these plants to the dynamic conditions along the water's edge, highlighting the interconnectedness of Chansaili Ghat's diverse ecosystems.

Conclusion:

As our botanical tour of Chansaili Ghat came to a close, we reflected on the knowledge gained and the memories created during this enriching experience. Ms. Priya Sharma's expertise and passion for the local flora added depth to our journey, leaving us with a profound appreciation for the botanical treasures of Chansaili Ghat. This expedition served as a reminder of the importance of preserving biodiversity and our role as custodians of the natural world.
